Helping Leaders Build Great Performing Teams

Kurt Lang – CEO & Founder

www.langleadership.com

Gratitude is a great place to start!

We feel compelled to say, "Thank you" to all the outstanding people who have helped us along our Leadership Journey.

Leaders are created – not just born with the right stuff.

Now, in Act II of our careers, we want to educate and develop every leader we can who wants to build a great performing team – leadership, culture, behaviors and results.

History and Team Performance

We worked diligently to create and sustain the world's largest and most successful industrial air compressor distributor: Air Technologies. www.aircompressors.com

- A PE owned company since 2013 (ESOP).
- In 7 years (2013-2019), we successfully grew and sold our business three times in the PE market space.
- The Alpha Factor™ has proven to be highly effective in the PE market space too.

Our team was instrumental in leading that charge and now, we want to share what we've learned and serve leaders wanting to build great performing teams.

A note of caution and some perspective

On the surface, The Alpha Factor® may appear intense and overwhelming; it is not.

We'll take it one step at a time and guide you and your team through the journey.

We're presenting the long game. These principles have proven to be highly effective in creating a culture that is focused on outstanding leadership, team building, continuous improvement and high performance.

Our competencies and skills are quite extensive. We're excited to meet with you, find out what you want to specifically achieve and craft a custom solution that will help you make it happen.

Greatness will be defined by each client—with a little coaching and accountability from us!

Section One: Love & Lead the People

We'll review the top 9 drivers that will help you create and sustain a performance culture.

These drivers were developed over the last 3 decades. They're proven to work, be highly effective and must be fully executed over time to achieve the desired results.

These principles will prove to your teammates that you truly care about them; you're there to help them grow and be successful. They directly relate to improving the business, which helps everyone to win.

This is all about two key topics; Earning Trust and Achieving Results.

Section Two: 5-Year Strategic Planning & Achievement

Using our VCC approach, Vision, Courage & Commitment, we'll help you create and achieve your 5-year strategic plans. In a separate document that we've developed, we'll guide you through the process.

VCC – the top three drivers to build a great life:

Vision: Alignment & Clarity – Mission (What, Why & How), Core Values, goals, action plans!

Courage: Drive your life forward, apply daily accountability, execute your action plans, push through occasional adversity, learn, and win each day. This is the Jet-Fuel to make it happen – daily courage.

Commitment: You're truly committed to the long game in making every effort to achieve the objectives that you have planned for yourself – professional and personal.

Section Three: Your daily growth practice

Having a firm grip on a daily growth practice is crucial > Mind Body Connection!

We've worked with many experts over the years, studied many respected books on these topics, done the work each day and we want to suggest a daily growth practice that is built around four basic areas:

Mind > Body > Movement > Affirmations

1. Mind – your daily mental fitness practice
2. Body – sleeping, hydrating and eating
3. Movement – how you physically work your body
4. Affirmations – providing attention to your most critical strategic life priorities

M > B > M > A – simple & effective.
